VOLUME XX

MT. STERLING, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 17, 1910.

NUMBER 6

MORNING GREETINGS.

Don't forget to say "good morning."
Husbands, when you leave your door
For the duties of the office,
Or the labors of the store;
Press a kiss upon the fond lips
Of the wife you leave behind;
Lighter far will be the day's work,
As you call it to your mind.
Don't forget to say "good morning."
To the children, parents, all,
When you meet their loving glances
At the early morning call.
Say it tenderly and kindly,
Say it over with a smile;
It may please them as they scatter,
And may keep their hearts from guile.
There's a charm that seems to follow
Every greeting word we say;
Our "good nights" and "good mornings"
Chase unkindly thoughts away.
They give rest to weary watchers,
To the weak impart new power,
While the good wish in the greeting
Seems to fall on every hour.

Byrd Will Fly to Victory.

With the nomination of Hon. A. Floyd Byrd for Congress in the Tenth district the Democrats have more than a fighting chance for redeeming it. Mr. Byrd is young and vigorous and can "talk all around" Mr. Langley's head. The Democrats of the district have heretofore made the mistake of nominating fossils against whom Langley was more than a match. The tangles were turned this time and the Republican nominee is so far outclassed as to hardly furnish amusement for Byrd, should they mount the same raging stump together. With the only daily paper in the district, the independent Winchester News, and several others with Republican proclivities opposing him, and a level-headed, clear speaker nominated against him, especially since he has followed the lead of the meaneast of the reactionaries, even supporting Uncle Joe Cannon, we do not mind saying to our readers in strictest confidence that we heartily believe that Mr. Langley is serving his last term in Congress and that hereafter if he gets an office it will be appointive.—Lexington Herald.

Old Soldier Dead.

Capt. W. P. Conner died at his home in Owensville August 10. He was a lieutenant in Ewing's company in the war with Mexico and served as Captain in the Twentieth Infantry, Confederate army during the Civil War. He held many public offices and was an honored and respected citizen.

New York Situation Affects Local Sport.

The passing of the racing for the time being after the first of incoming September in New York State is the most interesting topic of conversation among horsemen at Churchill Downs and Douglas Park. The veteran trainer, James Thornton, the oldest of the local colony of turfmen, told many interesting stories of racing in the Empire State when it was re-established at the close of the Civil War and Kentucky, Lodi, Muggins and Norfolk were the stars of the turf.

As far as the local racing is concerned Louisville will be largely benefited by the New York situation, but the State at large will be effected at least some, as the Eastern yearling market will be virtually destroyed and the substitute markets for the disposal of such youngsters elsewhere can hardly take its place.

It is nearly fifty years since W. R. Travers, Leonard Jerome and the older A. Belmont, with their associates, opened Jerome Park with its peculiar figure 8 shaped track and its clubhouse on the bluff, where President Grant, upon several occasions, sat and watched the cracks of that time contest for the supremacy.

It was in 1867 that Jerome Park inaugurated its historic Belmont Stakes and Westchester Cup, and the year following came the Ladies' Stakes, the Withers Stakes not being inaugurated for eight seasons later, it being 1874 when that classic was first run and won by Dublin, the Irish-named son of the great Kentucky. He beat a field of brilliant race horses, including Vandolite, Reform and Grinstead. Dublin belonged to an eccentric Irish turfman of great popularity and known to all turfmen of that day as "Old Joe Donahue." The colt was not thought to have a great chance of winning and even while at the post he was fractious and rearing, and he fell heavily. This was thought to have destroyed whatever chance he possessed, but to the astonishment of all concerned, he was out in the lead directly after the start and there he stayed until he had swept by the judges a winner of the first Withers.

The accident and subsequent surprising performance appealed to racetrack superstition to such an extent that for several years afterward there was always a wild rush to back any horse that might chance to take a similar tumble while at the post. What may now be the last Withers' Stakes was run at Belmont Park on May 21 last and was won by The Turk. The latter won it in 1:40, just ten seconds faster than Dublin had to run to win it over thirty-five years ago.

Bonnie Braes won the inaugural Ladies' Stakes and Ocean Bound may be its last winner, if the New York tracks are closed for good. Francis Morris, the elder, won the first Belmont Stakes with the great filly, Rutless, and what may be the last was taken by The Sweep on May 30.

The Western Cup has long ago passed out of existence, but Kentucky was its first winner, in the colors of the Jerome Park was named for, Donald W. Jerome. Over that historic track of long ago raced such noted horses as Aristides, Tom Bowling, Springbok, imp. Glenella, Heimbolt, imp. The Ill-Used, Duke of Magenta, Local, Bramble, Spendthrift, Crikmore, Hindoo, George Kinney, Miss Woodford, Hanover, Nellie Gray, Katie Pense and Firenze, performers ridden by such jockeys of international fame in their time as Charles Littlefield, James Rowe, Bob Swin, William Lakeland, George Barbee, William Hayward, James Fenkes, Isaac Murphy, Edward Garrison and James McLaughlin, and their equals have not even been seen this day.

City Sued.

George Richardson, a farmer living on the farm of Judge G. A. McCormick, has sued the city of Mt. Sterling for $3,000 damages for alleged personal injury. Richardson claims to have fallen in the sewer ditch near the old gas house property on East Main street, on June 4 last, sustaining injuries to the above amount. The suit will be defended by the contractors, Messrs Paul & Kerslimer, of Dayton, Ohio, who deny any liability on account of the accident.

House Party.

Miss Anna Casswell Prewitt, the attractive and charming daughter of Mrs. Casswell Prewitt, will entertain a house party this week at her beautiful country home near Prewitt's Station, composed of the following young ladies: Misses Martha and Anna C. Van Meter, Miss Mary Leonard Cassell, Miss Mary Vance, of Lexington; Miss Nancy Cooper, of Midway, and Miss Laura Carpenter, of Danville.

In the Money.

G. C. Anderson, who took his horse, Crapshooter, to the fair at Berea, raced him twice, finishing second in one race and third in the other. Mr. Anderson will take Crapshooter and a three-year-old mare, Stella Jeffries, owned by E. R. Little, to the Ewing fair this week.

Golden Butterfly.

Golden Butterfly was the winner of the $1,000 saddle stake at the Blue Grass Fair Wednesday, beating such good ones as Nazimova, Bourbon Prince, Kentucky's Choice and others. Golden Butterfly was formerly owned by Thos. Triplett, of this city.

Earl Senff

Earl Senff was returned the winner in the two-year-old running race Wednesday at the Blue Grass Fair. He is owned by Capt. J. T. Williams, of Spring Station, and is named for our County Attorney, Earl Senff.

Surprise Wedding.

Miss Marie Pardon, of Lebanon, Ky., and Mr. Ben W. Cox, of this city, were married at Jeffersonville, Ind., on August 9, by Magistrate Keigwin. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pardon, and her father, now deceased, was a farmer near Lebanon.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Cox, of this city, and is a grandson of Major A. T. Wood. He was formerly of Mt. Sterling, but has made his home in Louisville for the past four or five years, being engaged in the printing business part of the time and on the stage for awhile. He was with Robert Hillard in the production of "A Fool There Was," and last winter with the "Merry Widow" company.

Ben has a host of friends in Mt. Sterling, his old home, who extend him congratulations and best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous life.

Shocked.

The aristocratic residents of Brooklyn Heights, New York, where many of the four hundred reside, are inexpressibly shocked over the fact that the negro champion of the prize ring, Jack Johnson, is likely to buy a $65,000 residence in "their very midst." His claim that it is not for the purpose of "going into society" should in a measure relieve those who generally regard a negro as good as a white man.—Lexington Herald.

Racing.

Lexington will hold a Fall meeting for nine days. The dates selected are September 19 to 28, inclusive, which will probably be granted by the Racing Commission at their next meeting. Mrs. Cassidy, the famous eastern starter, will handle the barrier. Will Shelly, of Louisville, will act as Secretary. Twenty-five thousand dollars in purses will be hung up. Much interest is being shown and it is predicted that the meeting will be a success.

New Song.

"There was but one George Washington and only one Booker T." This is the catchy title of a song written by Mamie Edwards, and which is just off the press of the International Music Publishing Company at Richmond, Ind. The song has been dedicated by the author to the Tuskegee Institute. She also agreed to give all her royalties from the sale of the song to the institution.

Will Filed.

The will of John G. Carlisle has been filed for probate in Washington. William J. Kehoe is named as executor and the estate is to be divided between three grandchildren. It is estimated to be worth about $90,000.

Road to Be Extended.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad is said to be contemplating an extension to Pike county, Ky., at an estimated cost of $14,000,000.

Prewitt Reunion.

The annual Prewitt Reunion will be held at the residence of Attorney Henry R. Prewitt, in this city, on Thursday, August 25.

Former Champion Dead.

Joe Gans, former lightweight champion, died at his home in Baltimore of tuberculosis August 10. He won the championship in 1902 and lost it in 1908.

John Robinson's Shows.

A distinguished feature of the John Robinson Shows is the monster free open den street caravan. Who does not like to see the circus parade? Who would not view the gaily colored cages come along when Madame Roloske is seen spanking the nose of a large lion with a little whip while cheers greet the act? The "Rube" clown who gets arrested for blocking traffic on the streets, with his mule and cart, was once a great feature. He is well known now, but the inventive minds of circus men will have another novelty to replace him. Another event of moment in every small town, and large one, too, for that matter, is the early one, the arrival of the circus train. Long before the long train pulls in on the sidetrack near the depot the crowd is there. There is an army of juvenile volunteers, who are willing to carry water to the elephants just to get a free pasteboard entitling them to admission to the show later in the day. Men are there—to see that their boys, who have passed a sleepless night, do not get hurt. Even women find some excuse for going down to the railroad yards and taking a long look at the canvas-covered cars. Boys, who have gathered and sold enough old iron, rags and bones to get 50 cents, enjoy a memorable day, and the streets leading from the farming district to town are covered with every imaginable kind of vehicle.

Like the others, the farmers come—to bring the children. The feed dealer, who supplies hay, oats and corn for the horses, wants several extra tickets just for the children. The same is true of the butcher, who supplies the meat for the cook tent.

As soon as the sun is out there is bustle and activity every place. The circus does a land office business, and, as the crowd is pouring into the circus tent from the menagerie at the night performance, the army of employees of the shows start to take down the canvas which shelters the cages and the work of loading the outfit onto the train begins. Thousands of tired boys and girls retire, after having seen the show, peaceful and contented. The following morning the antics of the clown cause merriment at the breakfast table, and some youths who reside near the circus lot hurry through their morning ablutions in order to go over near the ring and see if any change has been dropped by the spectators of the previous night.

The John Robinson Shows will give two performances here on next Friday, August 19th.

Fifteen Indicted.

Fifteen indictments were returned at Newark, Ohio, against fifteen alleged members of the mob who lynched Carl Ehringhaus July 8 last, charging them with murder in the first degree. The investigations have not yet been completed and many more indictments are expected.

The lynching was the culmination of the attempt of the Antislavery League of Ohio to secure evidence against alleged saloonkeepers in Newark, who were declared to be selling beer and liquor in defiance of the State laws, lacking county, of which Newark is the county seat, having voted "dry" a year before.

STORY OF THE MOB.

Capt. Ehringhaus, the "dry" detective from Kentucky, was run out of a saloon on the afternoon of July 8 and finally arrested and put in jail at Newark. A mob that afternoon stormed the jail, but could not get him. The officials declared that they could control the mob, but that night the mob broke down the jail doors and took Ehringhaus from his cell, hanged him to a telegraph pole in the public square, in spite of the frantic protests of some of the best citizens. A reign of terror followed and fifteen citizens and business men were compelled to flee for their lives, and many have not yet returned to the city.

Chicago's new City Hall will be the finest in the world when completed, at least electrically speaking, as it is to contain 22,000 incandescent lights; 1,800 horsepower in motors; 300 telephone outlets; 200 floor boxes; 14 electric elevators; 100 electric clocks and 18 private branch exchange telephone boards.

"Generally debilitated for years, had sick headaches, lacked ambition, was worn-out and all run-down. Burdock Blood Bitters made me a well woman."—Mrs. Chas. Freitoy, Moosup, Conn. Im.

Few people realize that the gasoline engine would be impossible without electricity. It is the tiny electric spark which at the proper moment releases the hidden powers of the gasoline vapor.

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Takes the sting out of cuts, burns or bruises at once. Pain cannot stay where it is used. Im.

A stoic, my child, is merely a pessimist who is deaf and dumb on purpose.

Do You Gamble?

Some people do by spending their time and labor and money by housing a crop of hay, oats and other farm produce, and keeping thousands of dollars invested in live stock housed in barns, and gamble with themselves that it will not burn. DO YOU?

Other people place their savings in a home and handsome furniture and then gamble on their luck that it will not burn. DO YOU?

Still others invest thousands in factories, mills, warehouses and other things subject to fire, and think they are, by careful watching, prevent a fire. DO YOU?

To all persons gambling with themselves against loss by fire, wind or tornado, we would suggest you give the matter careful consideration. Can you afford to take chances of losing part or all of your accumulations for a lifetime by gambling on your luck? We think not. See us before it is too late, and do not gamble with yourself.

MORGAN'S MEN.

Morgan's men have their annual reunion yesterday and today at Park's Hill, the attractive grounds in Nicholas county at which for the past several years the survivors of that famous command have fore-gathered together. There those who in their youth rode under the "Stars and Bars" will meet to clasp hands, renew the memories of those gallant days and repledge the friendship which, welded in the fire of battle, have stood the test of years of peace.

Rapidly do their ranks diminish, as comrade after comrade falls, even as the lovable, loyal Mike Santley, high gentleman and upright judge, fell asleep but a few days ago, and the gallant, daring Sam Leavy passed to the Great Beyond but a few short weeks since.

And to the very day, almost to the very minute, when God's finger touched him, each of those who have gone before has borne his burden, played his part in the drama of life, as each met fully the danger and bore cheerfully the privations of war. No such body of men ever rode under such a leader as that band of young Kentuckians who made the name of "Morgan's men" immortal. We and all Kentuckians do ourselves proud, more than a generation since the close of that war, in making holiday of the day on which the survivors of those youths, now gray-haired, but still youths in strength, buoyancy and high purpose, gather to revive the memories of the days of long ago and close ranks, so that shoulder to shoulder they may march on facing the future, as they faced death, level-eyed and unafraid.—Lexington Herald

MR. LANGLEY'S PROMISES.

If some of the tales told in the meeting of the Tenth District Democrats are true, the present Representative has seen the Chicago platform tariff plank and gone it two or three better. A Government turnpike from Mt. Sterling to the Virginia line, a pension for all Confederate soldiers, an increase to $1 a day in all Federal pensions, money in lieu of the public lands not allotted to them for all mountaineers with Indian blood in their veins, and the repeal of the Kentucky dog tax law by congressional enactment, are cited as instances of Mr. Langley's intended beneficence to his constituents.

The mere recital of them is to pay tribute to a more than generous nature. To say that Mr. Langley is the most promising politician in Kentucky is but to do him justice. To predict that he will be one of the most finished politicians in Kentucky on the 9th of next November, calls for no gift of augury. The present is an off year for the practice of the Republican art of fooling all of the people all of the time, as Uncle Joe Cannon can bear witness.

But for all that we'd like to see Mr. Langley taken care of. A gentleman of his ability would make an excellent keeper of the records of the Annals Club.—Louisville Times.

PROTECT THE FIRE HOSE.

Several members of the local fire department have requested us to call attention to the City Ordinance making it a violation of the law to drive over a fire hose.

At several fires recently a number of good citizens, in vehicles of various kinds, have recklessly driven over the hose, apparently unconscious of the possible consequence. Instances are numerous where serious damage has been done in this manner and much valuable time lost in repairing a bursted place or replacing it with a new section.

We are sure this practice is the result of thoughtlessness alone and hope it will not occur in the future.

THANKS, MR. JAMES!

Upon behalf of the Democrats of the Tenth Congressional District we desire to thank Congressman Nile M. James, of the First District, for his able address at our recent convention.

Having accepted an invitation from our citizens to be present, he came from Washington, D. C., at his own expense and after the convention hurried back to Washington on the next train to the bedside of his sick wife.

The Democrats of this end of the State would like to see Big Ollie made United States Senator.

Knife Users Busy.

Knife users were busy in the city Saturday night. Somewhere on Maysville street, Lindsay Garrett, colored, received an ugly gash in the throat, presumably with a razor, in the hands of Nelson Garrett, also colored. Dr. McKenna administered to the wants of the colored man and he is not thought to be dangerously wounded.

Robert Chandler, white, cut Lula Houston, white, across the left arm, necessitating the taking of several stitches by the attending physician, Dr. Jones. This affair happened at a resort on the Oursville pike, of which the Houston girl is an inmate.

We were unable to secure accurate information as to the cause of the trouble in either case.

Chandler and Garrett both fled after the occurrences and neither have been apprehended.

LATER.—Garrett has been arrested and is now in jail awaiting his examining trial.

ALTERED MEANING OF WORDS

Some Instances of How They Have Departed From Their Derivations and Original Definitions.

In the New York paper of 1837 a Frenchman declared that he should lose all his "property." It sounds like something to laugh at. Nevertheless "property" and "property" have the same French derivation. Words have a knack of shifting not only from their source but also out of their own original meanings.

We accept an anecdote as a short, diverting story. Etymologically it means something as yet unpublished. To prevent, which is now to hinder, meant in its Latin original to anticipate.

A girl was anciently a young person of either sex.

Mountebank was the term applied of old to the patent medicine vender who mounted a bench to proclaim his wares. It was from the Italian.

Paradise in Oriental tongues meant only a royal ark.

Astonished means literally thunder-struck, coming from "attonare." A knave was once merely a lad and a villain only a peasant.

To be silly was in its ancient sense to be blessed.

To be officious was to be courteously ready to do kindly office.

If a man was facetious, in the early English, he was but urbane.

An idiot was a private citizen, as distinguished from an office holder. Frontispiece, if considered from its Latin source, is not a picture in the front of a book, but the front of something. The Latin word is "frontispicium."

"Beldam" is not an abusive term, in its French source, but means a fair lady.

Shamefaced comes from a good Anglo-Saxon term which means not one exhibiting shame, but one protected by shame, being therefore innocent and modest.

Few Earthly Mysteries Left.

An American hunter, Col. Max Fieleschmann of Cincinnati, just returned from a hunting trip in the continent that is no longer dark, declares from his luxurious resting place in a New York hotel that Africa is actually overrun with sportsmen. The hunters of Europe and America are following a distinguished example in their pursuit of big game. The elephant has become as gun shy as the antelope and is a scarce sight, declares the sportsman. One traveler not long ago told of shooting a lion from a railway train, obligingly halted for the purpose. That episode is reminiscent of the time when the lion, now extinct, save for a few preserves, could be seen in vast numbers from the windows of tourist cars. In the recently the Forbidden City, abounds in guide books. The Andes are pierced and the steamboat has found its way to the far upper waters of the Amazon. The flag has been planted at or near the north pole. Where could Robinson Crusoe find isolation and a solitude broken only by the capture and education of the docile Friday?—Washington Post.

Paved With Good Intentions.
A diplomat was talking in Washington about the late Hon. Auburn Herbert, son of the earl of Carnarvon.

"He was connected with the British embassy here," said the diplomat, "but after he turned Trojan he would have naught to do with diplomacy. Why, he once addressed a crowd in New York like this:

"The mad, blind struggle for the dollar, with no thought of the higher life, is ruining your country. The hosts of your men are dying in the streets that underlie your great city. It is a great city of hard hearts."

"Mr. Herbert was always original. I once heard him address a New York banquet of clergymen. I'll try and repeat the address in his own words. It ran:

"Meeting this morning the gentleman called Mephisto or Beelzebub, I greeted him politely and said:

"How are things down your way?"

"He grimaced and shook his head. He pointed to the mud on his hoof and tail.

"We are in a deuce of a mess down there," he said. "This is the season, you know, when our pavements are being laid."—Washington Post.

Children's Food.

Certain little suggestions are always to be followed when planning the diet of the little ones. To the healthy little stomachs in the nursery never serve hot stewed fruit to the children. Plenty of stewed fruit and baked apples they should eat, but they must be invariably cooked the day before and served cold. The nursery potatoes should always be baked or boiled in their jackets. The steamed and fried potatoes, or potatoes boiled without their skins, supply starch with a loss of all the wholesome potato salts that the skin stews during the process of cooking into the white part of the vegetable.

Low Pay of Welsh Ministers.

The lot of the average Welsh Non-conformist minister is not enviable. It was disclosed at the annual conference of the Welsh Congregational Union recently that many ministers receive as little as $175 and $175 a week. Taking the whole of Wales, one minister out of three has to be content with a stipend of less than $400 a year, and 15 per cent. receive from $350 to $400 a year.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

It doesn't seem like spending money to most people if they can charge it.

A girl is willing to walk when she is courted; she wants an automobile when she is married.

The worst about saving is you don't gain enough money to do you any good, and you lose all your fun.

A woman hates logic because in an argument a man falls back on it after she has beaten him with simple talk.

A cook is really a wonderful person to make people try so hard to hold her in a job she doesn't know anything about filling.—New York Press.

"At last," said the ambitious young novelist, "I have written something that I think will be accepted by the first magazine it is sent to."

"What is it?" his friend asked.

Olle James' Wife Leaves Infirmary.

Representative Olle James has moved his wife from the Washington hospital, where she has been ill for a long time, to a cottage in the suburbs of Chevy Chase, Md., where they are neighbors of John W. Yerkes, of Kentucky, formerly revenue commissioner and Judge George C. Perkins, of Covington.

Mrs. James is convalescing and Mr. James hopes to be able to come to Kentucky to enter the campaign soon.

The great Belgian Exposition at Brussels was destroyed by fire August 14. There were 100,000 people on the grounds and a panic ensued. Two persons were reported killed and about thirty were injured. An attempt was made to shoot the wild beasts in the menagerie, but the flames drove the fireman back and the animals were burned to death. Loss estimated at $100,000,000.

Ulian Trotting King.

When Ulian trotted in 1881 to sulky at Cleveland on Friday he ended all arguments relative to his speed and that of Lou Dillon whose mile in 1:58.1 behind a wind shield at Memphis in 1903. Takes technical precedence of all other performers at the trot, writes Henry Ton Eyck White in the Chicago Tribune.

Last Monday, Ulian driven by his owner, Mr. C. K. G. Billings, trotted a mile to wagon in 2:01, the best at that hitch, and also for a trotter without front pace, but whether or not it was as good as the 1:58.1 of Lou Dillon behind a wind shield was questionable, as the mare-derived less benefit from the windbreak than did most horses tried that way. But the 1:58.1 mile in the open, leaves no room for argument. Ulian is the fastest trotter yet produced, and, as the employment of a front runner now is prohibited, future attempts to lower the trotting mark must be made under conditions identical with those existing when Ulian put 1:58.1 to his credit. That Mr. Billings owns both Lou Dillon and Ulian is due to his own judgment of herself, since each was selected by him.

Comparisons of the 1:58.1 mile of Lou Dillon with the 1:58.1 of Ulian shows the quarters of each to have been as follows:
Lou Dillon, 330 592 1:28 1:58.1
Ulian, 297 550 1:29 1:58.1

After Papers.

Inspector Dew, of Scotland Yard, who arrested Dr. H. H. Crippen and Miss Ethel Levee on the steamer Montrose, hurried to Father Point to meet the incoming Canadian Pacific railway liner Lake Manitoba. Staff Sergeant, Mitchell is on the liner, bringing papers in the Crippen case from London.

Which One?

A New York woman says her husband, who is really worth only $20,000, is insane and has the delusion that he is rich. About 87,750,000 of his fellow countrymen are insane enough to insist that if he has $300,000 there's nothing to prevent him from being rich, unless it is the woman in the case.

OUT-OF-DOOR MEALS

DELIGHTS OF EATING IN THE OPEN AIR IN SUMMER.

Woman Who Has Tried the Scheme Tells How Her Family Enjoys It During Warm Weather.

Almost every family treats itself to an occasional meal out of doors, but very few know the delights of a whole summer of out-of-door meals.

A woman who has tried the scheme writes as follows:
"When we built our suburban home nine years ago, it never occurred to us that an outdoor dining room would be a possibility. Indeed, we never thought of such a thing, but by a happy chance the plans of our home were so arranged that it was not at all difficult to achieve our precious little dining room when we once conceived the idea. We lived here three years before we realized the pleasure we had lost by eating all summer long in a 'cozy, cheery, comfortable dining room' in the house.

"When the thought finally came to us it did not take us long to arrange things and to plan to use our little porch as an open air eating place. We had an old table with a top about four feet square which we used for a dinner table, but could never have it with dolls, for it was nothing but pine boards. For serving tables we used two old tables about 18 by 36 inches—six o'clock is our breakfast hour and tables cannot express the exhilaration of an outdoor meal at that time. The birds are singing in every tree and all nature seems bursting with joy. Many a time have I sat down to breakfast with a heavy shawl over my shoulders and a light wrap over my head, and when late September comes and we are forced indoors, it breaks our hearts to give up our woody surroundings and be shut in the four walls of a dining room.

"A green rug covers the floor partly and we have drop awnings which fasten to the floor—these we drop at night or on stormy days, and also we now have better china which we consider suitable to outdoors, and we also use a steel diet. This we keep locked up in the sideboard drawers between meals.

"Last summer we never ate one meal in the house from 1 to September 1. We began early in May having luncheon out doors first, then adding our evening dinner, but it was too cool in the early morning until June for breakfast on the porch.

Elizabethan Slang.

According to the latest edition of Webster's dictionary, one meaning of "lobster" is "a foolish, awkward, bungling or undesirable fellow." This meaning is supposed by most persons to be a modern development of slang. However, it seems a favorite term of those ancient Englishmen of Queen Elizabeth's day, and Shakespeare may have denominated his call boy as a "lobster" when the boy failed to attend to his duties. Some students of the word think it probably was applied first to men with red faces.

As signifying a soldier, the term "lobster" is as old as Cromwell's day. Lord Clarendon, historian of the civil war in England, explains that it was applied to the roundhead cuirassiers, "because of the bright iron shells with which they were covered." Afterward British soldiers in their red uniforms were called "lobsters."

Then came another development. The soldier in the red coat became a "lobster" because of the polka-dot in blue was, of course, an "unlobbed" or "raw lobster." Again, "a lobbed lobster" was for a man to enlist in the army and put on a red coat.

Crossing a Funeral.

"I don't suppose I'm more superstitious than most folks," said Mr. Audenbach, "yet I never cross a funeral. There's an old superstition that to do this brings bad luck. I don't know whether I retain because of this or because crossing a funeral would hinder your convenience first in his hurried on, seems to show a lack of the proper respect due the mourners, but anyway I find myself instinctively halting when a funeral goes along and not crossing over on it. It has passed, though I do not always wait for the very end of the procession.

"Now as this draws near I feel along the line and when I see coming a carriage in which the men are sitting back, confidently sucking big cigars, why I fear that these men are not so really and truly mourners, but that it is in a hurry to pass the head of them while falling in with the fun of the superstition or committing any impropriety."

Hot If the Thermometer is.

"In these hot days," said the gray old gentleman, "I never look at the thermometer. I find plenty of people who do and who make themselves wretched according to 'What's Hot? Hot it is!' they say as they see the figures, and they get hotter and hotter themselves as the mercury mounts. They aggravate their misery by dwelling on it, by a morbid study of the instrument that records the measure of their torture.

"I never do that. I don't want to know how hot it is. I prefer to imagine that I am passably comfortable and I keep as cool as I can; and as one help I do at such times I never look at the thermometer."

Foreign Views of American Women.

The American woman's "inhumanity to man" has a hostile critic in Prince Nicholas D. Ghika, of Roumania, who was interviewed in New York as he stopped there on his way to Alaska to hunt moose. In his observation of the women on this side of the Atlantic, he says, he discerns an unfortunate disposition to override the genus homo. Women here, he thinks, have too much liberty. While agreeing with the contention of the suffragettes and others that they are man's intellectual equal, he avers they are not content, assure women of other nationalities, to distribute the honors equally, but always want to dominate the other sex.

"For instance," he said, "suppose the American husband prefers to go to London on his vacation and the wife to Paris, you will observe that the women's wishes prevail, and to Paris they go. In insisting upon having her way, the woman assumes that she is her husband's superior. This is regrettable, for in every other respect the American woman is charming. Personally, I am not in favor of the other ruling; but I cannot reconcile myself to the belief that in according to woman this self-assumed prerogative the American husband is encouraging the development of the opposite sex in the direction that will best help her fulfill her destiny in this world.

"A little less liberty and more willingness to co-operate with her husband in those things that are for their mutual benefit, I submit, would eliminate one of the most grievous causes of domestic discord and develop a more wholesome spirit of comradeship between husband and wife than now prevails in so many cases, one has forced upon his attention in his intercourse with your so-called society men and women.

A SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT VIEW.

"The American woman is pre-eminent, but the American man; I can't say that I like him as well as the Englishman. He hasn't time to talk of anything but money."

Thus Annie Wakeman Lathrop in a Los Angeles interview the other day, poured forth her views on the sex of America. "But," she hastened to add, "the American man despite everything here is commercialism, have made the best use of their money. They have elevated their women, look up to them, are proud of their accomplishments, and, in return, the women are bringing the men to higher standards."

Mrs. Lathrop, formerly Annie Wakeman, is among the literary lights of the United Kingdom, and one of her recent works has found favor with the American reading public. Much of the material Mrs. Lathrop worked into her story was contributed by her to American newspapers many years ago, as she was sent to investigate the London ships.

"The American woman, as I know her," she went on, "has changed daily and for the better by far. I find she has taken up more the artistic side of life, enjoys the finer things and is proving the lifting influence on the lives of the entire nation. In America the advancement of woman has been the most rapid of any. She has grown faster than have the cities, the industries, or anything else. I like her better than the English woman."

Mrs. Lathrop has come to America to make a psychological study of women. Mr. Lathrop is himself a well-known English author and correspondent, writing under the name of Andrew Lorin.

Our Army.

Maj. Gen. Wood says there are now 87,000 enlisted men in the American army. Looking at it from a Hobsonian point of view, it is extremely depressing to think that so many Americans are destined to be slaughtered by the invincible heroes of Japan.

Best Work at Fifty.

In the industrial world it has become apparent that a man is too old at 40, and the London county council works department decided last year not to engage men above 25. It is in the intellectual world? Despite all the evidences of precocity, Mr. Dorland arrives at a conclusion which gives an average of 50 for the master work of great men. T. P. Weekly.

Suppose You Try It.

We are indebted to a Missourian paper for the following method of gaining a welcome entrance into a newspaper office:

"Advance to the inner door and give three taps. The devil will attend to the alarm. You will give your name, post-office address and number of years you owe for the paper. You will be admitted into the sanctum and will advance to the center of the room where you will address the editor with the following counterclaim: Hold the right hand about two feet from the body, with the thumb and fingers clasping a $10 bill, which you will drop into the editor's hand saying: 'Were you waiting for me?' The editor will grasp your hand and the bill, pressing it, and will say: 'You bet!'"

R. H. Swaffield, expert cutter for the Globe Tailoring Company, of Cincinnati, O., will be with us Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Punch & Graves.

Mayor Gaynor Improving.

Mayor Gaynor's progress toward recovery from the bullet wound inflicted by James J. Gallagher was uninterrupted by any outward symptoms. All official bulletins were of the same tenor as those heretofore issued.

The surgeons in attendance predicted that he will be able to leave the hospital for the Adirondacks in two weeks' time and be back at his desk in the city hall, if the so desired, within a month.

Detectives are carefully investigating the rumor that Gallagher was the tool of others, who sought to take the Mayor's life, but so far no shred of evidence to support this has been found.

For anything and everything to eat, go to Vannarsdell's.

Soft Drinks.

In a raid at Ashland Monday, the proprietors of fourteen stands, where only non-intoxicating refreshments were supposed to be sold, were arrested charged with selling intoxicating liquors, and in the trial that closely followed twelve of them were convicted and fined $75 and sentenced to ten days in jail. All gave bond pending appeal to the higher court.

Feed and Hitch Stable.

Horses hitched, fed hay, 20c. New buggies for hire, reasonable. Corn, hay and straw for sale. CHAS. LYONS, 521 1/2 Bank St., near new depot.

A Snap in Flour

Grasp the Situation and Do it Quick

100 Barrels of Flour

Twenty Thousand Pounds and no more, of the highest quality at the following low prices:

In 1000 pound lots and no less, at
$2.70 per 100 lbs.

In 500 pound lots and no less, at
$2.75 per 100 lbs.

Any quantity less than 500 pounds at $2.80 per 100 pounds or 70c per 24-lb. sack.

You know it's our hobby to undersell, but the above prices are less than the retailer can buy Flour from the mill. Some time ago we contracted for 100 barrels at a very low figure, and as usual we are glad to give our trade the full benefit of this lucky purchase. All wheat producing countries report a shortage of from 25 to 35 per cent. This means a high price for Flour within sixty days.

Take our advice and lay in your Flour at the above prices and you will save from 75c to $1.00 on every 100 pounds of Flour within sixty days.

Joe Peters injured.

Joe Peters, formerly of Clark, was injured last week by a team of mules hitched to a mowing machine running away with him and throwing him in front of the machine. His leg was nearly severed in two different places and it is feared it will have to be amputated above the knee. The unfortunate man is well known in this county and city where he has many friends who will regret to learn of his accident.

The American Vaudeville Co.

for the first time will appear in Mt. Sterling at the Tabby Opera House one week, starting Monday, August 22. A complete charge of programs each night. Do not miss a single performance, if you do you will miss the best attraction of the season. It is seldom you have an opportunity of seeing such a creditable production. The American Vaudeville Co. offers clean, classy vaudeville acts, playing to the popular prices, 10, 20 and 30c. Do not forget the date of the opening night.

Open this week Thursday and Saturday only, 10 cents.

R. H. Swaffield, expert cutter for the Globe Tailoring Company, of Cincinnati, O., will be with us Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Punch and Graves.

Bath County Man in Trouble.

Jas. Cartmel, of Bath County, was arrested here Monday charged with having stolen six cattle belonging to a Mr. Powers, of Bath County. The cattle were sold here to Jas. Wilson. The case was called before Co. Judge McCormick yesterday. The defendant waived examination and in default of bond in the sum of $500 was remanded to jail, to await the action of the grand jury.

We have everything the market affords in fresh fruits and vegetables. S. P. Greenwald.

Chickie is Stolen.

Chicken thieves robbed the coop of James O'Connell last Thursday night, taking all of Mr. O'Connell's chickens. This makes the third or fourth roost to be robbed in the last month and we would suggest that the people keep a lookout for the marauders and give them a load of bird shot. This would prove the best medicine that could be given to them, and would break up this outrage.

GREAT EVENT NEAR

Kentucky State Fair Preparations Go Merrily On.

THOUSANDS IN PREMIUMS

Ample Accommodations Offered Both Exhibitors and Visitors During Week of Sept. 12th to 17th.

Liberal Excursion Rates Will Prevail Throughout Territory Surrounding Louisville.

With an investment of approximately $300,000 in buildings and grounds, and a record of seven successful annual exhibitions before it, the Kentucky State Fair of 1910 will begin in Louisville on September 12 and continue throughout the week. The bright promise is given that the fair will click this year on one of the greatest State Fairs in America. Hard and unceasing work on the part of the board of managers, the fair officials, and employees, for many weeks past, is rapidly bringing to completion the plans and arrangements for the exhibition.

While no new buildings have been erected since last year's fair, there will be ample accommodations for exhibitors and visitors. Nature has worked wonders in the beautiful 150-acre plot occupied as a fair site, and the Kentucky show is rapidly gaining distinction as the most beautiful State Fair in America. Under the landscape gardener's care, the grounds have been adorned with shrubs, new walks and avenues have been laid out, and the trees now planted when the site was first selected now have grown to shade-producing proportions. The system of illumination has been extended so that every nook and corner of the grounds will be brilliantly lighted each night of the show week. Those who have watched the progress of work on the fair exhibition since the opening of the attendance, which last year reached high water mark, will this year be increased by thousands.

Cash prizes aggregating about $30,000 have been hung up in premiums for the 1910 fair. In many instances the prizes have been increased over former years, and many additional classifications have been made. More attractive than ever will be the "special prizes," which this year will aggregate between $5,000 and $10,000.

Aside from the thousands of dollars received in cash by exhibitors, there comes, however, a yet greater prize—the distinction of an award from the Kentucky State Fair. The sentimental and exploiting value of such an award has now grown until it is one of the most coveted prizes sought for by professional exhibitors in the country's largest agricultural exhibitions. It is not possible to put a correct valuation on the prestige and distinction that accompany a prize from the state fair of a commonwealth recognized as the head of the horse raising and stock raising community with few as superiors in the union.

An heretofore, liberal excursion rates from a wide territory surrounding Louisville will prevail on railroad and steamboat lines throughout the fair period. Every local arrangement has been made for the quick and safe handling of the crowds, and ample accommodations at reasonable rates are assured to all visitors to Louisville during State Fair week.

SPECIAL PRIZES AT STATE FAIR.

Long List of Valuable Premiums to Attract Exhibitors.

Special prizes of extreme attractiveness and of intrinsic value aggregating more than $5,000 will be awarded at the Kentucky State Fair during the week of September 12-18. These premiums are distinct from the $30,000 in premiums offered directly under the management of the fair, and cover a variety of honors which will be greatly sought after by exhibitors. The long list of special premiums announced up to date includes the following:

One of the Champions in the Live Stock Ring, Kentucky State Fair.

lowing: "Highland Home" Cup, donated by Gray Bros. of Glasgow, for best and finest saddle bred foal of 1910; American Saddle Horse Breeders' Association trophy for registered stallion or mare three years old or under; the Montgomery Chief Special of $125 for the finest and best stallion, mare or gelding, any age, by Montgomery Chief, offered by Jack H. Ross, Versailles; the Commissioner of Agriculture Saddle horse Stake, valued at $500 for best five-year-old saddle stallion, mare or gelding, three years old or over; the Hayes' Cup, offered by W. P. Hayes, of Bloomfield, for the best herd of Jack stock; the American Berkshire Swine Association grand silver trophy for best young herd of Berkshires exhibited by a Kentucky breeder; loving cup, valued at $50, offered by Mrs. J. W. Henning, Shelbyville, for four best Jersey cows in milk exhibited by one Kentucky owner; prizes aggregating $150 offered by the Red Poll Cattle Club of America; prizes aggregating $400 offered by Commissioner of Agriculture M. C. Smith for leading standard varieties of poultry, specialties by the South-down, Hampshire and Oxford Sheep Record Association for respective exhibits of pure bred sheep; the American Jersey Cattle Club for the first time offers four prizes, including gold medals, total value $150; a special of $100 in regular premiums set aside for these breeds by the state fair management; a special prize of $100 for Polled Durhams offered by the Polled Durham Association of America; the American Aberdeen Angus Breeders' Association offers $200 in specials; Holstein-Friesian Association of America offers $100 in specials; the Louisville Florists will present a loving cup to the exhibitor of the best floral design; J. F. Himmelfarb & Sons of Lexington offer $25 for the best exhibit of fruit grown from stock obtained from their nurseries.

In addition to the special prizes mentioned there is the much coveted prize of $100 offered by the Commissioner of Agriculture for the best and largest display of farm, garden and orchard produce from any one county. This offer last year resulted in an exhibit of great interest, and it is understood the same will be made at the approaching eighth annual state fair, which will be held in Louisville Sept. 12-17.

A model rural school building will be erected and maintained and the enterprise is to be fostered and carried out entirely by the women of Kentucky. This important work is in the hands of the Ladies' Auxiliary Advisory Board. This board was recently appointed, and consists of the following members: Mrs. James A. Leach, Louisville; Mrs. James A. Mitchell, Bowling Green; Mrs. Charles P. Weaver, Louisville; Mrs. John B. Castellan, Louisville; Mrs. John A. Stratton, Louisville; Mrs. John H. Miller, Valley Station, and Miss Laura Clay, Richmond.

With the aid of Secretary J. W. Newman of the state fair, and Prof. Elsworth Rosenstein, superintendent of public instruction, the work has been pushed rapidly, and the model schoolhouse will be erected prior to the fair and will be found complete in every detail when visitors begin to assemble on the first morning. As the state fair draws visitors from every section of Kentucky, this movement is considered one of the most important ever undertaken by a similar institution in this or any other state.

The members of the State Federation of Women's Clubs and all women's organizations of the state have undertaken a campaign for funds, and early reports indicate that they are meeting with success. Both inside and out, the proposed school building will be a model in every particular.

Collie Dogs on Parade.
The exhibit of collie dogs at the Kentucky State Fair, which will begin in Louisville on September 12, will be a particularly pleasing one. Already the list of entries is large, and the prizes are the best ever offered. The rules of the American Kennel Club will govern the collie dog show, and these rules may be had on application to Secretary J. W. Newman, Louisville, Ky.

For catalogue, entry blanks or any other information regarding the Kentucky State Fair, address J. W. Newman, secretary, 330 Paul Jones Building, Louisville, Ky.

For the Farmer's Wife.

The kitchen of a farmers wife should be a true experiment station. Good cook books are easily obtained containing numerous receipts for the every day fare, and a house wife can provide a diversified menu both healthful and appetizing. Every farm should grow an abundance of vegetables of all kinds, coming in good rotation, so the farmer's wife can readily make up her bill of fare with ease and at little cost and with considerable variety. A country woman attended a domestic economy lecture and told the lecturer afterwards that she learned as much from the other ladies as from him, in their comments. Nearly every woman, though an indifferent cook, has something in which she excels and, when together, women tell each other of their little tricks, so that an observing housewife can pick up many ideas among her associates. Fancy cooking is all right for occasions, but the every-day breakfast dinner and supper can be so diversified that not only drudgery is avoided, but variety can be given making the humdrum mealtime one of real pleasure. The farmer's wife should study the effect of different foods and vegetables on the human system just as the expert dairyman or cattle feeder does on his stock. The woman who says her cooking is not very good but will have to do, will never make as good a cook as the one who wonders why, and experiments and asks her neighbors what success they have had. Heavy, underdone biscuits, overdone meats, water soaked vegetables need not find a resting place on any farmer's table, let alone his stomach, and the wise farmer's wife will see that such things are properly prepared and nicely served, thereby not only preserving peace in the family, but health and pleasure and satisfaction.—Our Country.

The Four Corners.

"And what are we to understand by the Biblical expression, 'the four corners of the earth'?" asks the instructor in theology.

"Rockefeller's corner in oil, Havemeyer's corner in sugar, Carnegie's corner in steel, and Patten's corner in wheat," answered the new student—Saturday Evening Post.

"IN A BAD WAY."

Many a Mt. Sterling Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information.

When your back gives out;
Becomes lame, weak, or aching;
When urinary troubles set in,
Your kidneys are "in a bad way."

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.

Here is local evidence to prove it:

H. C. Greenwade, 25 Queen street, Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "I attribute my kidney trouble to the nature of my work. While I was never so bad off that I was unable to work, I was always in misery. I had severe attacks of lumbago which sometimes lasted for weeks and made my life a burden. I am pleased to say that Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at F. C. Duerson's Drug Store, gave me prompt relief from the last attack. Since using them I have had no recurrence of the trouble. I am pleased to recommend this remedy to other sufferers from kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Fathers and mothers, do not quarrel; at any rate not in the presence of your children. If you must say mean and spiteful things to each other, at least go into a room to yourselves and do not teach your children the unpleasant art of wrangling.

Unkind words do as much harm as unkind deeds. Many a heart has been wounded beyond cure, many a reputation been stabbed to death, by a few little words.

Let the children have a good time—childhood does not last long. Age is incapable of the fine enthusiasm of youth.
